Creating A Diverse & Inclusive Campus: Developing A Comprehensive Mission Statement & Action Plan: 2-Part Workshop

Wednesday, August 12 ~ 3:00-4:00pm (Eastern) & Wednesday, August 19 ~ 3:00-4:00pm (Eastern)

Once the live date has passed, these webinars will be available on demand.

Overview

The year 2020 has been like none other—a global pandemic, worldwide protests against racial injustice, and political polarization. These three fundamental shifts have created the perfect trifecta for colleges to examine their core values and develop a plan of action that creates the guidebook for moving forward and giving voice and elevation to creating a diverse and inclusive campus. Utilizing a ‘Mission Alignment-Mission Critical’ template and a ‘From Conversation to Action’ template, attendees will expose what breakdowns exist between what institutions say vs. do about diversity and inclusion and what should be done to achieve congruence.

This two-part workshop will address the need for colleges to revisit their commitment and plans for creating a diverse and inclusive campus. The first webinar will address the correlation between college mission statements and practices of diversity and inclusion. The second part will focus on the development of a college action plan aligned with the college mission statement and practices of diversity and inclusion.

This webinar will address

Attendees will understand the language of diversity and inclusion.

Attendees will examine college institutional mission statements and the alignment with institutional practices

Attendees will explore the components necessary to develop a campus-wide action plan.

Workshop Presenter

Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson has served in the K-12 and Community College system for over 30 years. During that time, she has been a special education teacher, a vice principal, principal, coordinator of special education, director of special education, associate dean of categorical programs and a vice president of student services. Throughout this time, she has held true to a single tenet- everything she does and every expectation she has for herself, for her staff and every program, practice, or initiative must be good enough for her child.

Mrs. Dorsey-Robinson had served in leadership capacities throughout the state and at the local levels, most recently as the President of the California Community College Chief Student Services Administrators Association (CCCCSSAA). She has served on six accreditation teams and on numerous technical site visits and has been an expert panelist in the areas of student success, disability services and financial aid initiatives, and has presented at state and national conferences on student success.

Ms. Dorsey-Robinson currently serves as the Chief Consultant with SDR Consultants, LLC, providing technical assistance and program review to K-12 and Community College student services divisions as well as leadership and mentoring to educational administrators.
